

Episode 56 – The History and Hauntings of Del Monte - Part 2

Join Host Alanna Youngblood and Senior Producer Sarah Dixon continue their investigation of the hauntings of the Hotel Del Monte on the Naval Postgraduate School. In this episode the history discussed in part one is compared to eyewitness accounts and patterns are discussed as Sarah and Alanna try to discover who really is haunting the hotel's halls. This episode was recorded on February 21, 2024.

Hotel Del Monte was the catalyst for Monterey's modern-day tourism industry and a trendsetter in the development of sports and recreation. At its zenith, Hotel Del Monte encompassed 20,000-acres spread across the Monterey Peninsula. Guests included American presidents, world leaders, industrials, business executives, famous artist, poets, musicians, dancers, comedians, film stars, and other notables.

The Visionaries who established and shaped the resort, Charles Crocker and Sam Morse, created an enduring legacy. (From <https://library.nps.edu/hotel-del-monte>)

Could it be these founders or some of the other past patrons trying to communicate with guests in the here and now?
