

INSTITUTE FOR SECURITY GOVERNANCE

Naval Support Activity Monterey
1635 Cunningham Road
Monterey, CA 93943-5011
instituteformsecuritygovernance.org

T +1 831.656.3171
F +1 831.656.3351
isginfo@nps.edu

NATIONAL RESILIENCE FOR DEFENSE AND SECURITY

RESIDENT: P179928
MOBILE: P319928

ELIGIBLE FUNDING: IMET, FMF/FMS, RDFP
CERTIFICATION: E-IMET, PME, CTIWF/RDFP

The Institute for Security Governance (ISG) offers an Expanded International Military Education and Training (E-IMET) course entitled “National Resilience for Defense and Security”. The course aims to equip participants with knowledge and skills to develop national resilience frameworks that can improve national and collective security in the face of complex threats and hazards, including large scale disasters, domestic crises, and irregular or hybrid warfare.

OBJECTIVES

At the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- ◆ Distinguish various characterizations and applications of national resilience
- ◆ Understand and apply whole-of-government resilience models to improve emergency preparedness and national security
- ◆ Develop risk identification and management measures for preventing, mitigating, or recovering from systemic shocks and failures
- ◆ Inform, prepare, protect, and mobilize civil sector constituents as essential components of national resilience
- ◆ Identify key public-private sector interdependencies and associated risk management, planning, and coordination requirements

TOPICS

The course will orient participants to successful whole-of-government resilience models such as the “Total Defence” approach, in which all facets of society contribute to keeping their nation safe, sovereign, and functional. The course will emphasize planning considerations and capabilities requirements for countering full-spectrum threats and hazards that target the civil population, and critical infrastructure and services. It will explore government coordination with the civil and private sector, reflecting the interconnected and interdependent nature of defense and security requirements. Course topics may include:

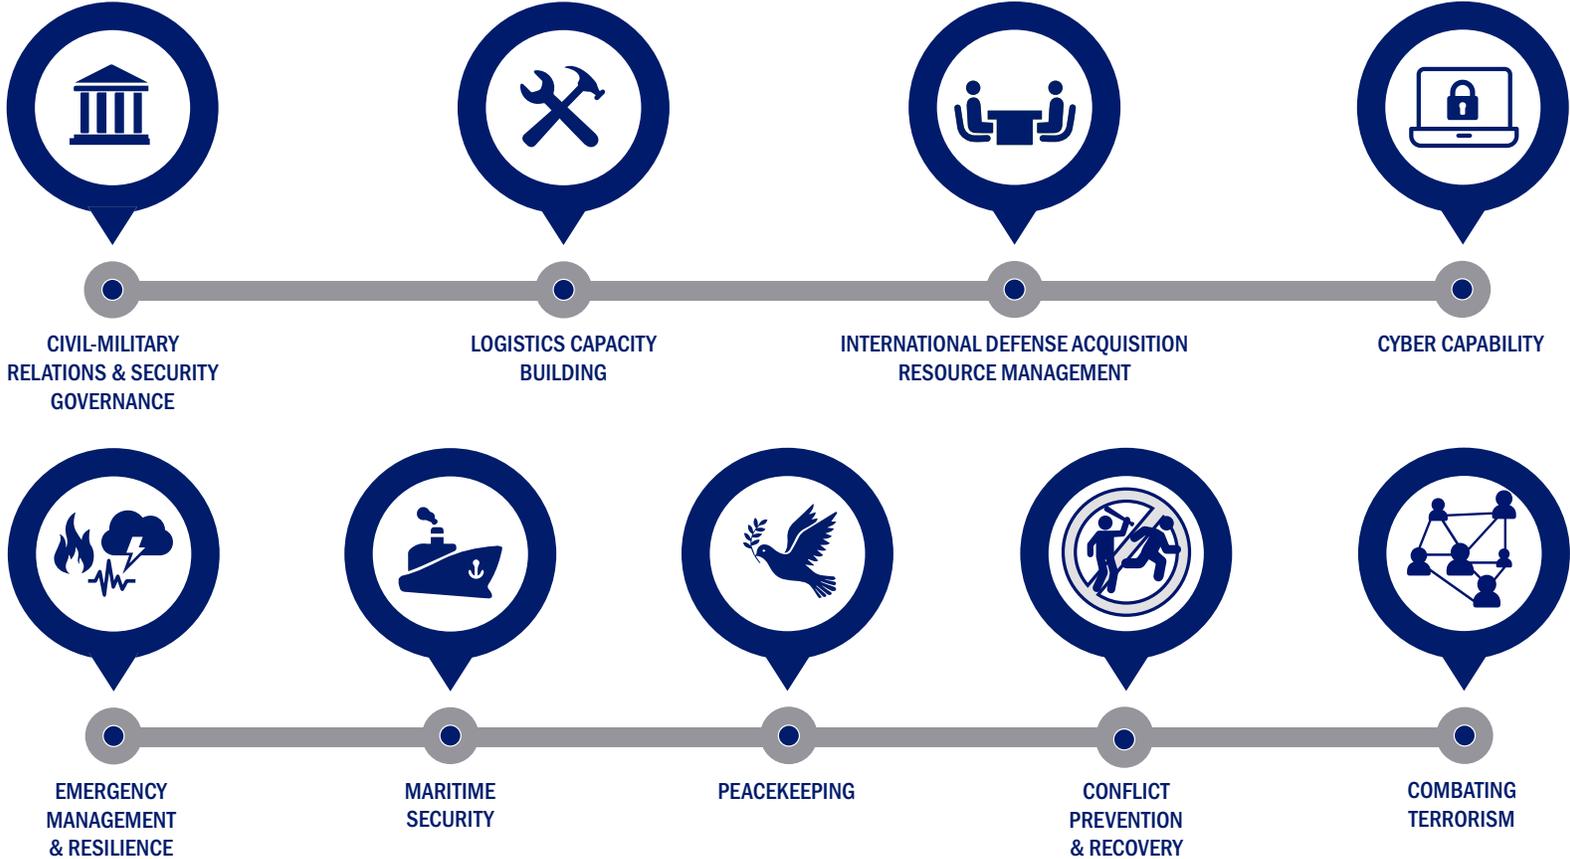

- ◆ Threats to resilience
- ◆ National resilience frameworks
- ◆ Civil-military cooperation in resilience
- ◆ Building resilience during post-conflict periods
- ◆ Emerging technologies and resilience
- ◆ Future resilience challenges

PARTICIPANTS

The intended audience is mid- to senior-level military planners and civilian equivalents. This resident course can be taught to either global or regional audiences of between 15-30 participants.

ISG PROGRAM AREAS

ISG programming has been developed over 25 years by providing military and civilian officials with unique education and professional development programs. Courses are designed to cultivate individual understanding of complex issues, foster peer-to-peer learning, and build connected networks of international peers through a professional learning environment.

FACULTY

ISG has a diverse faculty team grounded in professional experience from academic, military, government, and civil sectors. The core faculty are augmented by experts drawn from other parts of government, and American and international subject matter experts drawn from universities, industry, think tanks, international organizations, and non-governmental organizations.

ENROLLMENT

Courses are conducted with partner nations as part of the US Government security cooperation effort. Participation in ISG courses is managed through the Security Cooperation Office of the US Embassy in-country. Interested partner nation personnel should work through their government's international cooperation section, or the relevant US Embassy's security/military cooperation section for selection processes and enrollment. Where appropriate, ISG reserves limited space in courses for US citizens. Interested US citizens may contact ISG to discuss availability.

FUNDING

ISG can accept most types of US Government funding. Courses are typically funded by IMET, FMF, FMS, CTIWWP/RDFP, PKO, and other DoD-wide O&M funds (333, 332, MSI, etc.). Cost estimates can be obtained by contacting ISG or the applicable NETSAFA Country Program Manager.

ABOUT ISG

The Institute for Security Governance (ISG) is a Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA) schoolhouse, and leading Institutional Capacity Building (ICB) implementer, focused on helping partners build effective and accountable security institutions. ISG's tailored ICB approach supports partners in developing, resourcing, and sustaining the institutional capabilities and professionalization necessary to pursue common security cooperation objectives.