

Addressing Policy and Ethics from Varied Points of View

Description: A panel of three experts working in the field of robotics and autonomous systems discuss their perspectives on human-autonomy interaction, the enhancement and advantage it brings, and the potential concerns and ethical implications if not implemented carefully.